

"And these things write we unto you that your joys may be full."

■ One of the basic premises of precision teaching is "the child knows best." Therefore, the editors felt that an evaluation of precision teaching by the ultimate expert on the subject, a child, would be an appropriate way to end this special issue. We thank Dr. Lindsley for letting us share this letter from Leola McConnell, a second grader at the Whitaker Elementary School, Eugene, Oregon.

Dear Dr. Linsley,
I like idea of The charts.
and they are fun to do. I have 19 charts. I chart every Day.
it is fun to do. The Whole Room has 19 charts. Miss Freeman has 7 charts. Miss Freeman knows Dr. Hughton..
Miss Freeman told me a little about you.
I would like to Meetyou some Day.
I have heard a little about you.
I'm in Miss Freeman Room 2 and I'm in 2nd grade so how do you
Like that. I know Dr. Haughton
he is nice I'm sure you are. Miss Freeman is are Trainer Dr. Haughton is Miss Freeman Trainer. Dr. Linsley are you Dr. Haughton Trainer?
